American History II

North Carolina Standard Course of Study

High School Level
American History II

The Secondary Education department of the Cumberland County School System is pleased to provide the following curriculum guide, which describes your child’s program of study in American History II at the high school level. The curriculum will guide students from the late nineteenth century time period through the early 21st century. Students will examine the political, economic, social, and cultural development of the United States from the end of the Reconstruction era to present times. The essential standards of American History II will trace the change in the ethnic composition of American society; the movement toward equal rights for racial minorities and women; and the role of the United States as a major world power. An emphasis is placed on the expanding role of the federal government and federal courts as well as the continuing tension between the individual and the state. The desired outcome of this course is for students to develop an understanding of the cause-and-effect relationship between past and present events, recognize patterns of interactions, and understand the impact of events on the United States in an interconnected world.

The essential standards of American History II have been designed to provide a framework for studying political, social, economic, and cultural issues, and for analyzing the impact these issues have had on American society over time. This course goes beyond memorization of isolated facts to the development of higher level thinking skills, encouraging students to make historical assessments and evaluations. Written conceptually, standards have been developed with a historical approach and identify the most critical knowledge and skills that students need to learn in this course.

Apply the four interconnected dimensions of historical thinking to the American History Essential Standards in order to understand the creation and development of the United States over time.

1. Use chronological thinking to:
   - Identify the structure of a historical narrative or story (its beginning, middle, and end)
   - Interpret data presented in timelines and create timelines.
2. Use historical comprehension to:
   - Reconstruct the literal meaning of a historical passage.
   - Differentiate between historical facts and historical interpretations.
   - Analyze data in historical maps.
   - Analyze visual, literary, and musical sources.
3. Use historical analysis and interpretation to:
   - Identify issues and problems of the past.
   - Consider multiple perspectives of various peoples of the past.
   - Analyze cause-and-effect relationships and multiple causation.
   - Evaluate competing historical narratives and debates among historians.
   - Evaluate the influence of the past on contemporary issues.
4. Use historical research to:
   - Formulate historical questions.
   - Obtain historical data from a variety of sources.
   - Support interpretations with historical evidence.
   - Construct analytical essays using historical evidence to support arguments.
