North Carolina Standard Course of Study

High School Level
World History

The Secondary Education department of the Cumberland County School System is pleased to provide the following curriculum guide, which describes your child’s program of study in World History at the high school level. The curriculum will address six periods in the study of world history, with a key focus of study from the mid-15th century to present. Students taking World History will study major turning points that shaped the modern world. Upon entering this course, students are expected to have a firm foundation in the themes and tools of geography and early, ancient, and classical civilizations. The standards are grouped in a way that reflects accepted periodization by historians, and topics have been selected around a basic core of chronologically-organized history and social science knowledge.

The desired outcome of this course is that students develop relevant enduring understandings of current world issues and relate them to their historical, political, economic, geographical, and cultural contexts. As students examine the historical roots of significant events, ideas, movements, and phenomena, they encounter the contributions and patterns of civilizations of the past and societies around the world. Students taking this course will broaden their historical perspectives as they explore ways societies have dealt with continuity and change, exemplified by concepts such as civilization, revolution, government, economics, war, stability, movement, technology, etc.

Apply the four interconnected dimensions of historical thinking to the Essential Standards for World History in order to understand the creation and development of societies/civilizations/nations over time.

1. Use chronological thinking to:
   - Identify the structure of a historical narrative or story (its beginning, middle, and end).
   - Interpret data presented in timelines and create timelines.

2. Use historical comprehension to:
   - Reconstruct the literal meaning of a historical passage.
   - Differentiate between historical facts and historical interpretations.
   - Analyze data in historical maps.
   - Analyze visual, literary, and musical sources.

3. Use historical analysis and interpretation to:
   - Identify issues and problems of the past.
   - Consider multiple perspectives of various peoples of the past.
   - Analyze cause-and-effect relationships and multiple causations.
   - Evaluate competing historical narratives and debates among historians.
   - Evaluate the influence of the past on contemporary issues.

4. Use historical research to:
   - Formulate historical questions.
   - Obtain historical data from a variety of sources.
   - Support interpretations with historical evidence.
   - Construct analytical essays using historical evidence to support arguments.
1. Compare how different geographic issues of the ancient period influenced settlement, trading networks, and the sustainability of various ancient civilizations (e.g., flooding, fertile crescent, confluence, limited fertile lands, etc.).

2. Analyze the governments of ancient civilizations in terms of their development, structure, and function within various societies (e.g., theocracy, democracy, oligarchy, tyranny, aristocracy, etc.).

3. Explain how codifying laws met the needs of ancient societies (e.g., Hammurabi, Draco, Justinian, Theodosius, etc.).

4. Analyze the rise and spread of various empires in terms of influence, achievements, and lasting impact (e.g., Mongol, Mughal, Ottoman, Ming, Mesoamerica, Inca, Imperial states in Africa, etc.).

5. Analyze the development and growth of major Eastern and Western religions (e.g., Buddhism, Christianity, Confucianism, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, Shintoism, etc.).

6. Analyze the interaction between the Islamic world and Europe and Asia in terms of increased trade, enhanced technology innovation, and an impact on scientific thought and the arts.

7. Analyze the relationship between trade routes and the development and decline of major empires (e.g., Ghana, Mali, Songhai, Greece, Rome, China, Mughal, Mongol, Mesoamerica, Inca, etc.).

8. Compare the conditions, racial composition, and status of social classes, castes, and slaves in ancient societies and analyze changes in those elements.

9. Evaluate the achievements of ancient civilizations in terms of their enduring cultural impact.

2. Explain the causes and effects of exploration and expansion (e.g., technological innovations and advances, forces that allowed the acquisition of colonial possessions and trading privileges in Africa, Asia, the Americas, and the Columbian exchange).

3. Analyze colonization in terms of the desire for access to resources and markets as well as the consequences on indigenous cultures, population, and environment (e.g., commercial revolution, Columbian exchange, religious conversion, spread of Christianity, spread of disease, spread of technology, conquistadors, slave trade, encomienda system, enslavement of indigenous people, mixing of populations, etc.).

4. Analyze the role of investment in global exploration in terms of its implications for international trade (e.g., transatlantic trade, mercantilism, joint-stock companies, trading companies, government and monarchial funding, corporations, creation of capital markets, etc.).
1. Explain how new ideas and theories of the universe altered political thought and affected economic and social conditions (e.g., Scientific Revolution, Enlightenment, rationalism, secularism, humanism, tolerance, empiricism, natural rights, contractual government, laissez-faire economics, Bacon, Descartes, Galileo, Newton, inductive and deductive reasoning, heliocentric, inquisition, works of Locke, Montesquieu, Rousseau, Bolivar, Jefferson, Paine, Adam Smith, etc.).

2. Analyze political revolutions in terms of their causes and impact on independence, governing bodies, and church-state relations (e.g., Glorious Revolution, American Revolution, French Revolution, Russian Revolution, Haitian, Mexican, Chinese, etc.).

3. Explain how physical geography and natural resources influenced industrialism and changes in the environment (e.g., agricultural revolutions, technological innovations in farming, land use, deforestation, industrial towns, pollution, etc.).

4. Analyze the effects of industrialism and urbanization on social and economic reform (e.g., Industrial Revolution, urbanization, growth of middle class, increase in productivity and wealth, changes in economic status, new types of labor organizations, etc.).

Understand the Age of Revolutions and Rebellions.

1. Evaluate key turning points of the modern era in terms of their lasting impact (e.g., conflicts, documents, policies, movements, etc.).

2. Analyze the increase in economic and military competition among nations in terms of the influences of nationalism, imperialism, militarism, and industrialization (e.g., Ottoman Empire, Japanese Empire, Prussian Empire, the German Empire, “Have and Have Nots” of Europe, industrial America, etc.).

3. Analyze economic and political rivalries, ethnic and regional conflicts, and nationalism and imperialism as underlying causes of war (e.g., WWI, Russian Revolution, WWII).

4. Explain how social and economic conditions of colonial rule contributed to the rise of nationalistic movements (e.g., India, Africa, Southeast Asia).

5. Analyze the emergence of capitalism as a dominant economic pattern and the responses to it from various nations and groups (e.g., utopianism, social democracy, socialism, communism, etc.).

6. Explain how economic crisis contributed to the growth of various political and economic movements (e.g., Great Depression, nationalistic movements of colonial Africa and Asia, socialist and communist movements, effect on capitalist economic theory, etc.).

Understand how national, regional, and ethnic interests have contributed to conflict among groups and nations in the modern era.
1. Evaluate global wars in terms of how they challenged political and economic power structures and gave rise to new balances of power (e.g., Spanish American War, WWI, WWII, Vietnam War, Colonial Wars in Africa, Persian Gulf War, etc.).

2. Explain how international crisis has impacted international politics (e.g., Berlin Blockade, Korean War, Hungarian Revolt, Cuban Missile Crisis, OPEC oil crisis, Iranian Revolt, “911”, terrorism, etc.).

3. Analyze the “new” balance of power and the search for peace and stability in terms of how each has influenced global interactions since the last half of the twentieth century (e.g., post WWII, Post Cold War, 1990s Globalization, New World Order, Global Achievements, and Innovations).

4. Analyze scientific, technological, and medical innovations of postwar decades in terms of their impact on systems of production, global trade, and standards of living (e.g., satellites, computers, social networks, information highway).

5. Explain how population growth, urbanization, industrialization, warfare and the global market economy have contributed to changes in the environment (e.g., deforestation, pollution, clear cutting, ozone depletion, climate change, global warming, industrial emissions and fuel combustion, habitat destruction, etc.).
